DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of claims 1-10, species visnadin, Ginkgo biloba dimeric flavones complexed with phospholipids, and Escin beta-sitosterol complexed with phospholipids in the reply filed on 11/10/2006 is acknowledged.

Claims 3, 6-8, and 10 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Claims 11 and 12 are cancelled.

Claim Objections

The specification is objected to because of the following reason: The specification failed to claim foreign priority, which renders inconsistency with the oath and declaration. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections –35 USC § 112, 2nd

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1, 2, and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1, 2, 4 are improper Markush groups, and it is not clear what components are in the composition. Applicant is suggested to use the Markush claim "selected from the group consisting of..."

Claim Rejections –35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2, 4, 5, and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the combination of Bombardelli et al (US 5,665,335), Bombardelli et al (US 6,267,996), Cho et al (US 5,529,769), and Plaschke (US 6,409,996).

Bombardelli et al (US 5,665,335) teach a cosmetic composition (lotion) comprising 1% visnadin (col 2, Example II).

Bombardelli et al (US 6,267,996) teach a cosmetic emulsion (cream) comprising 0.5% Escin beta-sitosterol fitosome® (complexed with phospholipids) (col 6, Example VI).

Cho et al teach a cosmetic composition (gel) comprising 1% Ginko biloba (col 12, Example 11).

Art Unit: 1655

Plaschke teaches a cosmetic composition comprising extracts of flavone content of the Ginko biloba (col 12, Example 11).

It is well known that it is prima facie obvious to combine two or more ingredients each of which is taught by the prior art to be useful for the same purpose in order to form a third composition which is useful for the same purpose. The idea for combining them flows logically from their having been used individually in the prior art. In re Sussman, 1943 C.D. 518; In re Pinten, 459 F.2d 1053, 173 USPQ 801 (CCPA 1972); In re Susi, 58 CCPA 1074, 1079-80; 440 F.2d 442, 445; 169 USPQ 423, 426 (1971); In re Crockett, 47 CCPA 1018, 1020-21; 279 F.2d 274, 276-277; 126 USPQ 186, 188 (1960).

Therefore, it would have been prima facie obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the inventions of Bombardelli et al (US 5,665,335), Bombardelli et al (US 6,267,996), Cho et al, and Plaschke since all of them teach compositions for cosmetic industry individually in the art. It is noted that creams, gels, lotions, and milk are all encompassed by the claims as cosmetic compositions. Since all the compositions yielded beneficial results in cosmetic industry, one of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to make the modifications. Thus, the invention as a whole is prima facie obvious over the references, especially in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

Conclusion

No claim is allowed.
